EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

As the Prime Minister of England, Rishi Sunak is bound to protect the interests of his country of birth. That is his nationalism and kartavya. But Sunak's politics is driven purely by British interests. He has to win British votes and hearts and not those of India. If any evidence of this was needed, it was in the appointment of Suella Braverman as Home Secretary. She is tough as nails on immigration, and though she had resigned on the grounds of breach of protocol in Liz Truss's administration, it seemed to have been quickly forgotten.

It is due to politicians like Braverman that the Free Trade Agreement (FTA) between the UK and India has missed many deadlines because she has proposed stringent conditions. By choosing her, Sunak has sent a clear message to India that when it comes to giving Indians free access to Britain, Indians will have to wait many months to get a visa, even for business or study in England. Excessive adoration of successful people of Indian origins has brought nothing tangible to India. Sunak is definitely going to let down his fangirls and fanboys in India. With the UK General Election barely 20 months away, Sunak knows that the Hindu label isn't powerful enough to ensure his return to 10 Downing Street. For that Sunak has to appear more British than the British themselves.

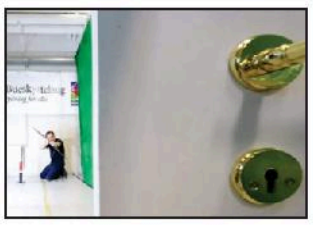
Archer shoots arrows through keyhole



Copenhagen: An archery master recently set a new Guinness Record by shooting seven consecutive arrows through a tiny keyhole using a traditional Ottoman bow.

Lars Andersen is often hailed as the world's ultimate archer, performing feats that most us mere mortals can only dream about. He is the only person capable of shooting 10 arrows in just 4.9 seconds, he can shoot arrows that turn in mid-flight, and shoot while holding multiple arrows in his draw hand.

Recently, Andersen added another feather to his already impressive cap by shooting seven consecutive arrows through a keyhole less than 10mm in size, thus setting a new Guinness record. The impressive feat was achieved back in June of this year, somewhere in Denmark.

Preserving people's tattoos after their death

Cleveland: 'Save My Ink Forever,' a Cleveland-based company, offers people the opportunity to have their tattoos preserved as artworks after they pass away.

Third-generation mortician Michael Sherwood and his son Kyle came up with the idea for 'Save My Ink Forever' a few years back, while having a few drinks with some friends. One of them said that he would like his ink preserved somehow and asked the Sherwoods how he should go about doing that. They laughed at the question at first, but their buddy pushed the issue and it got the two morticians thinking.

Tattoos mean a lot to the people who have them inked on their bodies, as well as to their families, so it made sense that some of them would like them preserved. After devising a technique for removing and preserving tattoos, the Sherwoods founded 'Save My Ink Forever' and started taking orders.

HEALTH CAPSULE

Constipation during pregnancy is completely normal. This is due to the hormonal changes that occur in the body and iron tablets. This can be easily overcome by consuming plenty of oral fluids and adding high fibre foods like fruits, vegetables, beans and whole grains. Rarely stool softener syrups are required.

Mysuru-Nanjangud National Highway crying for attention

Sir,

On behalf of 55-plus member industries of Nanjangud Industries Association (NIA), we would like to bring to the notice of the authorities concerned the extremely poor condition of the Mysuru-Nanjangud National Highway, the lifeline to our member industries in Nanjangud Industrial Area.

This road is unmotorable and is full of craters and potholes. It has become very dangerous for our loaded freight carriers and transport vehicles carrying workers to travel on this road.

Additionally, many stretches on this road outside the city limits do not have proper street-lights which is essential for night-time safety. And motorists have to bear the brunt even after paying the toll charges for any vehicular movement on this pathetic road.

This is very unfair for the law-abiding tax-payers, who also pay additional highway toll charges but are compelled to risk their lives every time when traveling on this unmotorable road. We at Nanjangud Industries Association would like to request the authorities concerned to stop the toll collection with immediate effect till the road is repaired and made motorable with safe driving conditions.

Seepage threat to Kukkarahalli Lake Bund

CNNL team suggests soil test and many safety measures

'Lake lacks surplus flood disposal system except for one sluice-controlled gate valve'

Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) team during inspection of Kukkarahalli Lake on Monday last.

Mysuru, Nov. 4 (BCT)- The technical team from Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) that visited the Kukkarahalli Lake and carried out an inspection last Monday has submitted its interim report.

Former Member of Karnataka Tank Conservation and Development Authority Dr. K.M. Jayaramaiah; Executive Engineer of Engineering Wing of University of Mysore Prathap and Assistant Executive Engineer Shivalingaprasad had requested the CNNL team to inspect the Lake and suggest remedial safety measures in the wake of water seepage from the Lake bund and also the damage caused due to water overflow.

H.K. Sampath Kumar, Technical Consultant (Designs) of CNNL noted in his report that the Lake does not have any surplus flood disposal arrangement apart from a sluice controlled by gate valve which cannot efficiently dispose of the flood during an emergency.

Following concerns that the Lake bund or the embankment could collapse due to heavy rain and the residential and commercial areas could face catastrophic consequences, the team has suggested construction of a 'rock toe' in the downstream of the Lake to reduce dampness due to seepage in the downstream embankment as an immediate safety measure.

Gated head regulator

Further, it has been recommended to construct a gated head regulator on the left flank of the bund for flood disposal as a permanent measure. During inspection it was noted that there is slight wetness on the lower portion of the bund downstream at two to three locations.

At present, no cracks or settlement is observed and clear water is emerging out of the surface which is not alarming. Soil samples have been collected from the downstream slope of the bund for investigation by the engineers from the Karnataka Engineering Research Station (KERS) and a report is awaited, the CNNL interim report noted.

The CNNL team has recommended that the key plan or the schematic map indicating all the inlet point location, tank bund and downstream valley must be prepared. "Further, the surplus water has to be discharged downstream of Lingambudhi Lake located on the downstream of Kukkarahalli Lake and hence dimensional sketch of surveyed downstream valley details has to be prepared," the report said.

Soil test report

Safe bearing capacity (SBC) test report and soil classification report at the location where the gated head regulator is proposed has to be prepared. Tests should also be conducted on soil parameters such as moisture content, permeability and specific gravity of the existing Lake bund to assess the safety and stability of the existing bund, the report has recommended.

Dr. K.M. Jayaramaiah told Star of Mysore that the CNNL and the KERS can submit a joint report on the remedial measures to be taken to save the Lake instead of submitting two reports. "The CNNL and KERS authorities can brainstorm and arrive at a common report so that a definite conclusion can be reached and immediate measures taken," he said.

Viveka Memorial

Court dismisses suit challenging Govt. allotment of land

Mysuru, Nov. 4- The 10th Civil Court (Junior Grade) of the city has dismissed a suit challenging the Government and the District Administration's order on handing over of landed property coming under Survey No.2024 (Property No.312) located along N.S. Road in the city for the construction of Viveka Memorial.

Details: The State Government on Jan.9, 2013, had issued an order handing over of 36,592.66 square feet of land along Narayana Shastri Road (N.S. Road), which included the NTM School building and premises and the adjacent BRC building along with premises, to Sri Ramakrishna Mutt and Mission for free, for the construction Swami Vivekananda Memorial Cultural and Youth Centre (Viveka Memorial) at the site. Subsequently, the Government issued another order on Jan.7, 2022, directing the District Administration to shift the NTM School to a building block of Maharani PU College for Girls located in the premises of the Department of Pre-University Education and hand over the NTM School premises to Ramakrishna Mission for the construction of Viveka Memorial. Accordingly, the District Administration passed an order on handing over the landed property to Ramakrishna Mission (No.5/2022-23).

Questioning all these three Government orders, five persons — H.V. Basavaraju, N. Siddappa, T. Lingaraju, K. Shivakumar and C.N. Sunil Kumar — filed a petition in a city civil court. The petition named the State Government and the Mysuru DC as respondents.

As the petition came up for hearing, Government Pleader Umesh Kumar argued on behalf of the Government and appealed for the dismissal of the petition. The 10th Civil Court Judge Ravindra Havaragi, who heard arguments and counter-arguments, rejected the contention of the petitioners and dismissed the petition filed by H.V. Basavaraju and four others named above. The court also imposed a penalty of Rs.1,000 on the petitioners.

Cabinet approves Rs. 50 crore to set up Kidwai Hospital in Mysuru

Bengaluru, Nov. 4 (KMS&DM)- Taking forward its determination for providing better treatment and care of cancer patients, the State Government has approved sanction of Rs. 50 crore for the establishment of a regional Kidwai Memorial Hospital in PKTB Sanatorium premises on KRS road at Mysuru.

The State Cabinet, which met on Thursday, discussed a proposal submitted by Bengaluru's Kidwai Memorial Institute of Oncology to set up a 350-bed Peripheral Cancer Care Centre in Mysuru at a cost of Rs. 60 crore. But the Cabinet, while accepting the proposal on Hospital at Mysuru, limited the cost to Rs. 50 crore and gave nod for the project.

It may be mentioned here that Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and MLA L. Nagendra had appealed the Government for establishment of Kidwai Cancer Hospital in Mysuru, which would benefit patients from districts of Mysuru region.

More recently, MP Simha had met Health and Medical Education Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar during his visit to the city late last month and presented a memorandum to him seeking release of Rs.50 crore for setting up of the Cancer Hospital in PKTB Sanatorium premises on KRS road.

Cops stop man from taking wife and ailing infant to hospital in Mandya

Make mother-child sit on roadside for hours till husband fetches money to pay fine for helmetless riding

Mandya, Nov. 4 (Mohanraj &KS)- Traffic Police personnel, who stopped a man from taking his wife and his seven-month-old ailing infant to hospital as he was not wearing a helmet, made the mother and child sit on the roadside for hours till the man fetched money to pay the fine.

This inhuman act took place at Mahaveer Circle in the town yesterday and despite the man pleading the Police to let them go as he had to take his child to hospital fell on deaf ears. The incident had made the public curse the Police Department.

Abhishek, a resident of Yaguchaguppe village of Bookanakere hobli in K.R. Pet taluk was taking his wife and his child on his bike to the Mandya District Hospital as the child had suddenly taken ill. When they reached Mahaveer Circle in the town, Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) - Traffic Raghuprakash stopped the bike as Abhishek and his wife were not wearing helmets. Not only did the ASI stop the bike, he also took away the keys of the vehicle and told Abhishek to pay Rs. 500 fine and then take the bike key.

Abhishek told the ASI that he did not have that much money with him and also told him that he was taking the child and his wife to the District Hospital as treatment is provided free of cost. He also pleaded with the ASI to let them go and he would not commit the mistake again.

But his pleas fell on the deaf ears of the ASI, who demanded Abhishek to pay the fine and then take his bike. Members of the public, who saw this, tried to convince the ASI to let them go as there was an ailing infant with them. But the ASI scolded the public and told them that he would not let them go till the fine is paid.

Left with no other options, Abhishek made his wife and child sit on the footpath of the busy Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway, called his friend over the phone and requested him to transfer some money to his Google Pay account. After Abhishek received the money, he then dashed to the ATM kiosk on V.V. Road, withdrew the cash, paid the fine, took his bike and then left for the hospital.

Meanwhile, members of the public, who expressed their anger on the inhuman act by the ASI said that the ASI could have issued a notice to Abhishek and could have told him to pay the fine in the Court instead of making the woman and the infant sit on the roadside for hours till the fine was paid. They wondered whether the Police have lost their humanitarian concern.

Meanwhile, Mandya Superintendent of Police (SP) N. Yatish, speaking to SOM yesterday, said that he was Shivamogga on a case and will come back today (Nov. 4). The SP further said that the incident has come to his notice and added that he has instructed Circle Inspector Santosh to investigate and give him a report.

If the ASI and the Constable are found at fault, action would be taken against them, the SP added.

Nanjangud, Nov. 4- A 47-year-old High School teacher reportedly committed suicide by hanging self in the car shed near his house in the town yesterday night.

The deceased is Shambhulingu, working as a teacher at Koodlapura Government High School and a resident of Ramaswamy Layout, near Devirammanahalli in the town.

As he did not return even after 7 pm, his family members searched for him and when they went to the car shed near the house, they found him hanging. Though he was rushed to a private hospital, he had breathed his last by then.

Forest personnel from Mysuru tranquillise the animal

K.R. Nagar, Nov. 4 (KTR&KS)- Tension prevailed at K.R. Nagar town as a wild leopard attacked a bike rider and a Forest staff this morning.

About 5 am, a resident of the town, who went to his under construction house to do curing works, saw the leopard sitting in front of the house and the shocked resident began to scream and fled from the spot alerting others. Deepavali escapade to Goa –4

Narakasura comes alive amidst vestiges of Portuguese rule

Hindu majority India seems to believe in tomorrow, not today, now, here ... history of the world will vouch for it.
if you want peace, be prepared for war. If you want freedom, be prepared for war. If you want to take back what is forcibly taken from you, prepare for a war and wage war if good sense does not prevail. War is the only antidote for enemies of a peace-loving, freedom-loving people or a country.

For those born before 1947, when India won independence from the British and after that year, visiting Goa and Pondicherry (now changed to Puducherry in 2006 !) is bound to make them reminisce the post-independence history of these two States. The reason is that even after independence they remained under foreign rule for some more years. Wonder, why the name of Goa, a name given by the Portuguese, is not changed to its original Hindu name Gomantak. This despite there being a political party with the name 'Maharashtrawadi Gomantak Party' after 1961 when Goa was liberated. Let it be.

Interestingly Goa was the first territory to be ruled by the western powers and the last one to get freedom, over a decade after British left. Proof of a soft government post-independent India. To think that many became martyrs fighting for freedom of Goa even after India became independent should be disturbing to a nationalist's conscience even now. Think of the descendants of those freedom fighters who were killed by the Portuguese as Delhi remained a mere spectator till 1961. These thoughts crossed my mind as I visited the oldest Portuguese fort Reis Magos Fort.

In the 20th century when most of the colonial powers saw an end to their control over the territories in India, it was the Portuguese who remained in Goa till 1961. Thus Goa became the first territory of India to be colonised by European Powers and the last territory of India to be liberated from colonial rule. (From 1510 to 1961 — 451 years). To go back in history, Goa was under Bijapur Sultans and earlier Kadambas were ruling Goa.

When I went to the Museum in Reis Magos Fort, I discovered that the Portuguese rulers of early days followed two major State policy. One was conversion of Hindus into Christianity and the second Racism. Both these policies were resisted by the Hindus and also the converted Christians (because they suffered Racism). As expected, as early as 1543 there was religious persecution leading to non-payment of taxes by the people. There was an uprising that went on for eight years, and the Portuguese massacred their leaders.

History records that Goan people were not cowards who meekly surrendered to the Portuguese rule. There were many uprisings from time to time for different reasons. There was even one known as 'Uprising of Pinto' during 1787. It was a rebellion against Portuguese rule in Goa. The leaders of the plot were three prominent Christian priests. There was also a revolt in 1895 led by Dada Rane, which too was suppressed.

In the museum of the Fort there was information about an Hypnotist by name Abbe Faria who is credited with having introduced the oriental Hypnosis to Paris and the western world. That he had also played a role in the 'Uprising of Pinto' during 1787 was very important. A statue of this famous Goan of those days is near the old Secretariat at Panaji, at the junction of narrow roads which I passed by a couple of times (see picture). And I also saw a rare statue of Mahatma Gandhi standing with a small boy in one of the town junction (see picture).

Unlike animals, human beings need a country of their own and a government to govern them. No matter what kind of a government — monarchy, dictatorship or democracy. As I was scanning the information at the Reis Magos Fort, I realised that all those photographs, images, incidents, uprisings and revolts were in fact the harbinger of shape of events to come as years passed. Consolidation of the land, country, and its administration by the government are complex as well as unpredictable. Which is why we find ancient world being redrawn over centuries between people of different races, religions and languages; civilisation being wiped-out giving place to new and sometimes even weird. This, therefore, affirms the wise definition of peace as an interval between two wars. Alleluia!

Be that as it may, I learn at the Fort museum that our country's original and most authentic socialist Dr. Ram Manohar Lohia, went to Goa in 1946, a year before we got independence, to fight along with Goan freedom fighters against the suppression of liberties and repressive rule by the Portuguese. This led to the formation of "National Congress, Goa." But to what avail? Goans had to wait till 1961 to be liberated. Hindu majority India seems to believe in tomorrow, not today, now, here ... history of the world will vouch for it.

In later years, this Fort was converted to a prison by the Portuguese where freedom fighters were imprisoned. There were display boards with names of freedom fighters imprisoned in this Fort and the names are a revelation for those who understand history. They suffered, they died for our today and for the tomorrow of their children. Let us salute their memory for their bravery, suffering and sacrifice.

As I climbed down the long, paved ramp, I remembered the saying that if you want peace, be prepared for war. If you want freedom, be prepared for war. If you want to take back what is forcibly taken from you, prepare for a war and wage war if good sense does not prevail. War is the only antidote for enemies of a peace-loving, freedom-loving people or a country.

Thank you Goa. You educated me about war and peace; also about the joys of counting the waves as they kiss the beach.

Dr. Manik Bengeri's contribution to Armed Forces Flag Day Fund

Mysuru, Nov. 4- Dr. Manik A.V. Bengeri of Mysuru has sent a Demand Draft (DD) for Rs. 30,000 in favour of Armed Forces Flag Day Fund as her small contribution towards the great services done by the Armed Forces to the Nation.

The amount was the proceeds from the crocheted Tri-colour flags, rakhis, badges and other items stitched by her and sold to friends and well-wishers as part of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in August 2022.

A resident of Saraswathipuram, she has sent the DD to the Secretary, Kendriya Sainik Board, Ministry of Defence, West Block IV, Wing VII, 2nd Floor, R.K. Puram, New Delhi-110066. The DD was issued by Bank of India, Kuvempunagar Branch.

It may be recalled that Prime Minister Narendra Modi too had sent a letter to Dr. Manik Bengeri recently, thanking her for the Tri-colour rakhi she had sent to him on the occasion of Raksha Bandhan.

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav: 1947-2022

Remembering Surgeon Commodore Dr. C. Vasant Rao, AVSM, who was fond of his days in Mysuru

A proud Mysurean, who regularly reads Star of Mysore from the United States, was impressed with another Mysurean Dr. Manik Bengeri's Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav series on veterans from defence forces settled in Mysuru. "The feature on late Brig. Dr. M.A. Gokhale in SOM dated Aug. 17, 2022, brought back great memories. In fact, we were good friends of Brig. Gokhale. We were introduced to the Brigadier by my maternal uncle, Surgeon Commodore Dr. C. Vasant Rao, AVSM, who were close friends in Mumbai," says Prof. Dr. K. Sandeep Prabhu, who has sent this article from the US.

"Surgeon Commodore Dr. Rao was one such individual who served in the Army and then Navy. He was always fond of his days in Mysuru and visited Mysuru whenever he had a chance to meet his parents, siblings, relatives and friends. He was notorious for his ability to gather everyone around the dining table with his stories from his days in the defence service. In fact, while at the Command Hospital in Pune, he once operated on Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa and that story captured the Field Marshal's reputation for keeping the time. I thought of contributing this piece about Dr. Rao to be part of the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav series," says Dr. Sandeep Prabhu. Now read on...

Surgeon Commodore C. Vasant Rao

By Dr. Shubha Vashisht, MD and
Prof. Dr. K. Sandeep Prabhu, Ph.D

Chandrain Vasant Rao was the second of seven children of C. Govind Rao and Sharada. He was born in Nagar, Shimoga District of Karnataka on 12th May 1934 in his grandparents' house. He spent his early years in Mysuru, attending Mahajana School and Sarada Vilas High School in Chamundipuram along with his sisters. He was a bright student with excellent academic credentials and was readily accepted into the Licensed Medical Practitioner (LMP) programme in Bengaluru.

Armed with an LMP, he interned with his doctor uncle in Hubli. This internship led him to pursue a full medical degree at Indore Medical College in 1957. While at Indore, he also obtained a Diploma in Ophthalmic Medicine & Surgery (DOMS). He worked for a short while in Bhopal and subsequently at Kasturba Medical College in Manipal, as a demonstrator in Anatomy. Following these short stints, he was commissioned in the Indian Army on 13th December 1959.

As a young doctor in the Army Medical Corps (AMC), his first field posting was to Jammu where he was affiliated to the Sikh Light Infantry regiment. Dr. Rao learned to speak broken Punjabi, which endeared him to his regiment.

He was later posted to Chushul in Leh district of Ladakh, on the Indo-China border, where he served as the army doctor in the regiment that fought the Chinese forces as they forcibly took Ladakh in 1962. Here he witnessed some horrific casualties that he had to treat, in the difficult conditions of high altitude and with only the basic resources of a field hospital. He remained there for a further 6 months after the ceasefire treating the wounded until it was safe to fly them to a base hospital.

His experiences of his time in Chushul had a significant impact on him that he continued to reflect on, even in his eighties. He once again found himself on the frontline, during the Indo-Pakistan War in 1965, when Pakistan sent its forces to infiltrate into Jammu and Kashmir, to begin an insurgency against India.

He was eventually posted to Military Hospital Lucknow, where he decided to complete his M. S. in Ophthalmology at KGMC (King George Medical College) Lucknow. He was awarded the Gold Medal in Ophthalmology in 1967 for his outstanding performance. As a full-fledged Ophthalmologist, he was posted to the Indian Naval Hospital, INHS Sanjeevani, in Kochi, where he decided to switch to the all-white uniform of the Indian Navy as Surgeon Lieutenant Commander.

He continued to serve in the Indian Navy with an 18-month-long tenure aboard INS Darshak, a survey ship during which he transformed several aspects of sailors' lives with a focus on healthy diet and sobriety. The highlight of his naval career was his long tenure at INHS Asvini, the Navy's flagship hospital in Colaba, Mumbai. During his 12 years at INHS Asvini from 1976 to 1988, he introduced many services that were new to Naval Hospitals at the time, such as contact lens clinics, paediatric squint surgery and carried out some delicate and exquisite surgery to repair traumatic injury to the eye.

During the latter part of his time at INHS Asvini, he was appointed as the Senior Advisor in Ophthalmology. He also acquired the status of a recognised and accredited post-graduate teacher and mentor to naval officers registered for M.S. Ophthalmology at Bombay (Mumbai) University and mentored many accomplished Naval ophthalmologists. He was awarded the Ati Vishisht Seva Medal (AVSM) in 1988 by the then President of India R. Venkataraman for outstanding service to Ophthalmology and the Navy.

He retired from the Indian Navy in 1989, while posted in Kochi for the second time. He led a contented retirement in Pune, while travelling to London, New York, and Chicago, to spend time with his three children and 6 grandchildren. He also made it a point to visit Mysuru whenever he got a chance to spend time with his family and friends, including late Brig. Gokhale and his wife whom he knew from his days in Mumbai.

In Pune, he established a free clinic in the Housing Society he lived in. He spent many hours each day for 16 years, until the age of 85, treating the poor, the elderly and anyone who had an ailment. He founded the Senior Citizen's Club in Hermes Heritage Housing Society in Pune, and served as an active member in organising all the social activities of the Club.

He was an exceptional human being, blessed with immense humility and wisdom. He remained a kind and gentle soul and dedicated his life to the service of others, especially the poor and underprivileged. He started an informal scheme in which he encouraged well-off senior citizens to sponsor bright and capable children of his housing society's janitorial and support staff. These children were supported financially with a regular monthly sum of money to ensure nutritious and high protein diets, access to study books and career counselling. He would monitor their progress personally by regular checks of their school report cards to scrutinise attendance and academic performance. Scores of children were supported in this way, to study and aim higher in life.

Sadly, he passed away on 13th December 2021 at the age of 87, after suffering a heart attack in Pune. He is survived by his wife of 63 years Sulabha Rao, children Dr. Shubha Vashisht, Asheeth Rao and Dr. Beena Palekar and fondly remembered by his grandchildren, his siblings and their families as well as the many people he helped and treated over the years.

Surgeon Commodore C.V. Rao led a contented life filled with compassion, optimism, dedication and commitment.

‘Adopt a Heritage Building’ concept planned

District Heritage and Conservation Committee meets at DC bungalow premises

Taking note of this provision, the meeting decided to approach corporate houses in Mysuru such as Infosys, Wipro, TVS, JK Tyres and NGOs like Namma Mysuru Foundation.

Pointing out that a few NGOs are keen on maintenance of prominent Circles such as K.R. Circle, Hardinge Circle and Ayurveda College Circle in the heart of the city, the members deliberated on asking those NGOs for taking up regular maintenance of the Circles. In addition, NRIs with roots in Mysuru or those interested in conservation of heritage can be approached for funds to be used purely for maintenance and conservation of listed heritage structures, the members opined.

Hoardings in core heritage area

The members took exception to violation of rules in the installation of hoardings and other display boards allowed by the MCC in core heritage area of the city.

Maintaining that the display boards erected at prominent Circles, near University of Mysore, KSOU, St. Joseph’s Educational Institutions in Jayalakshmipuram are not in compliance with heritage norms, they suggested maintenance of uniformity in the display of all hoardings and digital display boards in the core area in keeping with heritage norms.

DC bungalow compound dilapidated

The meeting, which took note of the dilapidated condition of the compound wall of the DC’s official residence on Hunsur road, suggested that the basement of the wall be raised by at least 2 ft, while keeping its heritage characteristics intact.

The Committee members also suggested that the official DC residence be painted in ivory white periodically so as to retain its original heritage characteristics.

The meeting was attended by Heritage Committee members Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, Ravi Gundurao, Prof. Shakeeb-ur-Rehman, Prof. Lokesh, Narendra Kumar and Sharathchandra, Deputy Director of Heritage Department Manjula, MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dineshkumar and other officials. At the end, it was resolved to convene a meeting of major corporate houses, individuals and NGOs interested in heritage conservation and take forward the concept of establishing a corpus fund and adoption/ sponsorship of a heritage building by them.

QR code ticket facility at City Railway Station

Now passengers can avoid standing in long queues

Mysuru, Nov. 4 (BCT)- To cater to the large number of passengers purchasing unreserved tickets on a daily basis for travel by various trains, the South Western Railway (SWR) has introduced QR Code ticketing and has supplied samples for display at the Mysuru City Railway Station and a few other Stations.

The UTS (Unreserved Ticketing System) App on mobile has been introduced for purchasing paperless unreserved tickets and the process has become popular and its use has been steadily increasing day by day. Passengers hailed the move and said that this is a convenient way of booking tickets instead of standing in long lines.

Railway officers said that the UTS App is one of the major digital avenues implemented by the SWR in taking forward the digitisation of railway services for the convenience of passengers. As of now, over 30 Stations across Mysuru Railway Division have the QR code facility. In the next two to three weeks, all the 78 stations in the Division will have this facility.

“This utility facilitates the passengers to book tickets through UTS App from within the station premises and also from the areas within the vicinity of 1-km radius from the station by scanning the QR code of that station,” an officer said.

The UTS App was introduced by the Railways in 2017 and it was a convenient way to purchase unreserved tickets to their destinations but the app restricted travellers from purchasing the tickets after reaching a particular Railway Station due to security issues.

“Earlier, passengers could purchase tickets through the UTS App only before entering the Railway Station. Now, the QR code facility will help the travellers overcome this restriction. They can just scan the QR code and follow the steps. Once the payment is made, the downloaded ticket can be shown to the Travelling Ticket Examiner (TTE) on the mobile phone app,” the officer explained.

“The system has been introduced with Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s initiative for Digital India. With the availability of QR code at stations, passengers can now purchase their paperless ticket online without having to stand in queues, saving time and energy. It will be convenient for the passengers who decide to book tickets at the last minute,” the officer added.

How to buy tickets through QR Code?

Passengers must download the UTS App from Google Play Store for android phone users and apple iOS for Iphone users and complete the ‘registration’ and ‘login’ process.

After successfully creating an account, passengers can book a ticket by specifying the source and the destination and book a ticket. The application will generate a QR code of booked ticket which will be used at Railway Station to scan the ticket QR code.

Step 1 : Open UTS App
Step 2 : Under the Book Ticket Menu, there will be an option of QR Booking
Step 3 : Now scan the QR code that is provided in the Railway Station
Step 4 : Select the destination and other fields
Step 5 : Make the payment and the ticket is generated instantly
Step 6 : Show the ticket in the App to the TTE

WORD OF THE DAY

Peculiar

Pronunciation: pih-KYOOL-yer.
Meaning: Peculiar describes people and things that are different from the usual or normal, or that are characteristic of only one person, group, or thing.
Origin: It might strike you as odd that the origins of peculiar are livestock-related, so let us explain. The word's Latin ancestor, peculiaris, means "privately owned, extraordinary"; it traces back to pecu, meaning "cattle," by way of peculium, meaning "private property"—cattle of course being a particular kind of private property. Given the monetary value historically placed in cattle, it makes sense that pecu has given us several money-related words, including pecuniary ("of or relating to money"), peculate ("to embezzle"), and impecunious ("having very little or no money"). Peculiar honed in on the "extraordinary" meaning of peculiaris, applying to what is characteristic of only one individual, group, or thing. In modern use that sense is commonly followed by the preposition to, as in "a tradition peculiar to their family." The "odd" and "eccentric" meanings of peculiar are extensions of that sense, and are now the word's most common applications.
Example: "'Troll: A Love Story,' by Johanna Sinisalo, is a celebration of the imagination—a quirky and peculiar read for those who love something out of the ordinary. The protagonist, a young photographer in his 30s, finds a wounded troll (from the Scandinavian mythology) outside his apartment building, and decides to give it shelter." — Pajtim Statovci

THE ODD WORD

Palfrenier

Groom.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Pinch penny

Meaning: Pinch Penny is used as a noun to describe a thrifty person, meaning someone who is being frugal or stingy, or as a verb, as in 'to pinch pennies', when describing the action of saving money and not spending any.
Origin: This phrase originated in the year 1582. Nowadays, it's more common to say penny-pincher.
Example: "We want to buy our own home, so we're pinching pennies and saving as much money as we can."
"His "pinch penny" uncle is not likely to help him pay off his student loan."

QUOTE BOX

Whatever your dream is, every extra penny you have needs to be going to that. —Will Smith
